ASTRA Proceedings

An open-access journal for refereed contributions in astrophysics and space sciences transactions

Aims and scope

ASTRA Proceedings is an international open-access proceedings journal that addresses the topics related to astrophysics, astrobiology, heliophysics, (exo-)planetary physics, and space science. The journal welcomes proceedings from all astrophysics conferences around the world. All manuscripts submitted to ASTRA Proceedings undergo a rigorous peer review organized by the Programme and Science Committee (PSC).

ASTRA Proceedings covers the following fields:

- astrophysics;
- astroparticle;
- heliophysics;
- magnetospheric physics;
- (exo-)planets and small bodies;
- scientific instrumentation;
- solar and stellar physics;
- space weather and climate;
- astrobiology.
